STATEHOOD BILL UP AGAIN

NOW IN THE HANDS OF HOUSE CONFERRERS.

The Action Attended With Much Opposition—Senate Occupies
Time With the Rate Bill—
Lodge and Spooner Speak.

Washington, March 22.—The railroad bill occupied practically all the time of the afternoon to day. There were two speeches, one by Lodge and the other by Spooner. Lodge spoke in advocacy of his amendment looking to the enlargement of the interstate commerce commission, and in doing so replied sharply to some recent utterances by Commissioner Prouty. Referring to an interview by the commissioner Lodge spoke first of an utterance by Eugene Debs, and then said that it was not capable of doing so much harm as Prouty's statement. He then turned to the rate bill and said that with the mileage system established all manufactures in the New England states would be destroyed. Spooner devoted his attention to the constitutional powers of the inferior courts, contending that these courts could not be destroyed nor their jurisdiction taken from them. He engaged in controversy with Rayner over the power of congress to deprive the courts of the privilege of suspending the fixing of interstate commerce commission and discussion closed with these interchanges of courtesies by Spooner. During the day Beveridge, chairman of the committee on territories, asked for the appointment of conferees to meet conferees appointed by the house on the statehood bill.

Foraker at once objected to the secrecy of the senate proceeding by the suggestion of the chairman of the committee, saying that that gentleman did not represent the sentiment of the senators. Disposition of the subject was postponed until tomorrow.

HOUSE.

The statehood bill was taken from the speaker's table in the house to day, placed in the hands of a selected conferees and a request made of the senators for a conference of disinterested of the two houses. This action was not accomplished without many words and votes. It was developed at once that there were votes enough to carry out the program of the leaders. Then followed forty minutes of fiery speeches, some of which provoked the house. Then came the final vote on the adoption of the rule which 175 members approved and 156 opposed.

Features of the debate were remarks of Debs of Minnesota, during which he told of his approval of the president practically because he had given his daughter in marriage to a member of the house, or to a republican of "that house of detention at the other end of the capitol."

Dalzell of Pennsylvania championed the special rule and filled the minority leaders suggested that the republicans were in need of special prayers of chaplain after they had made their record on statehood. Several other special speeches followed.

The legislative appropriation bill constituted the subject for the remainder of the day. Criticisms was made of the management of the library of congress and Hardwick of Georgia found himself opposed by members on both sides of the chamber in his endeavor to resist the white house appropriation so as to eliminate the social secretary of the wife of the president.

CAPITAL NOTES.

The department of justice will take official notice of the lynching in Chattanooga, Tenn., of the negro, Johnson, in whose case the United States supreme court last Monday granted a right of appeal, which acted as a stay of execution. Steps have been taken by the department looking to an investigation of the matter. The United States district attorney for that section will be instructed to make a thorough investigation of the lynching to the federal court and if the facts obtained seem to warrant proceeding to the federal statutes action will be begun against the participants.

Speaker Cannon received a letter to day from Secretary Shaw urging that the bill appropriating $77,710 to reimburse the Cable company for loss sustained by the cutting of its cables in Cuba during the Spanish-American war be passed. Secretary of War says the claim is just and should be allowed at his session.

Representative Sulzer of New York introduced a bill to day providing that all vessels in interstate commerce service shall be equipped with life preservers attached to chairs. The number of passengers is never to exceed the number of chairs.

Louisville, March 22.—A "special" of individual bowlers occupying two alleys in the national tournament early to night furnished the most sensational work of the meeting. The highest single score was made by Walter Tuthill of Brooklyn, N. Y., who with 675 takes first place in the individuals. His work beats anything in recent years except that of "Deacon" Jones of Milwaukee, who several years ago scored 688 at Cleveland but with a "loaded" ball. D. Myers of Detroit closed with 650 and assumes second place. Grothentrath of Cleveland bowled 635, but takes fifth place, as Van Dersyde of Chicago, Monday set a mark of 648, and Schmick of Terre Haute 631. George Schreiner of Dubuque, made 570; J. Benglow of Omaha, 563; H. Morgan and L. K. Uhry of Sioux City, 550 each, and A. Hambricht of Dubuque, 550.

The three best scores for two men teams were Sandblom and Vondertail, St. Paul, 1142; Smith and Koester, Brooklyn, 1141; Paller and Halletts, Brooklyn, 1133. Among the highest of the first five men teams to night were: First National Bank, Chicago, 2700; LaCrosse, LaCrosse, 2612; Strike Out, Oshkosh, 2522.

OPERATORS AND MINERS DIVIDED

EVERY PROPOSITION MADE DEFEATED.

No Nearer Agreement Than When Former Conference Adjourned—Will Hold Another Meeting Today.

Indianapolis, March 22.—After being in session the greater part of the day the joint conference of operators and miners of the central and southwestern districts adjourned this afternoon until tomorrow divided on every proposition made during the day by either side. They were no nearer agreement than they were February 2, when the former joint conference disbanded and adjourned sine die. Every indication to night pointed to disagreement.

President Winders of the operators admitted that disagreement of the joint scale committee of the central and southwestern districts is probable.

Vice president Lewis of the United Mine workers said: "There will certainly be a disagreement unless the operators recede from their position."

The joint scale committee of the central competitive district adjourned at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Four propositions were made and all were defeated. President Mitchell, as soon as the afternoon executive session had begun, moved that the wage scale of 1905 be adopted for one year. In making this motion the miners receded from their former demands of 7 or 8 per cent, a 4 hours day, increase of 12 1/2 per cent in wages and prohibition of employment of boys in mines under 16 years of age. After a brief argument this proposition was defeated, operators and miners voting by states. All operators voted against the motion and miners unanimously for it.

H. N. Taylor of the Illinois operators moved that the wage scale of 1905 be accepted for two years, providing the miners agree to pay the expenses caused by the shot fires law in Illinois. This it has been figured by the operators amounts to two cents a ton of coal mined and would amount to $200,000 per year. It was defeated by unanimous vote of both operators and miners.

President Ferry of the Illinois miners moved that the 1905 scale, which is an advance of 5.50 per cent over the scale in the central district and relatively in the southwest district, be accepted for one year, the operation of the shot fires law in Illinois to remain as it is at present. This was defeated; miners voting for it and operators against.

It was defeated by operators of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio who voted against the proposition. The western Pennsylvania operators and miners voted for it. The committee adjourned until tomorrow.

Earlier in the day the miners' representatives moved that the Illinois shot fires law be regarded as a district matter to be settled by the district, but this was defeated by the operators, who took the position that it was an interstate question and affected the competitive field. The miners made an effort to have differences referred to a subcommittee of four miners and four operators, but the operators would not agree to this. The western operators subsequently withdrew with the miners on this question.

The joint scale committee of the southwestern district defeated the proposition of the miners for the appointment of a sub-committee and also refused to exclude the stenographer from the room on a motion of miners in order that a proposition from the miners' representatives might be credited without a record being made. The committee then adjourned until tomorrow. All sessions of both scale committees were executive. No one was allowed to approach the rooms in which the meetings were held.

Over one thousand miners and four hundred operators spent the day in suspense awaiting the action of the two committees. Should these committees finally disavow the sessions of the joint conference of the two districts will be called to take up the fight in open convention. Should they agree their action must be referred to the joint conference before becoming operative.

MAY APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE

IF CONGRESS FAILS TO REMEDY GRIEVANCE

Head of American Federation of Labor Discusses Replies of Roosevelt, Cannon and Frye—
Printers Strike Considered.

Washington, March 22.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor spent some time to day discussing the replies of President Roosevelt and Speaker Cannon to the bill of grievances presented to them and to President Protem Frye of the senate yesterday regarding legislation affecting labor interests. President Dampier said that tonight the concluding paragraph in the memorial inquired exactly what it said: If congress fails to remedy the grievance the organization will appeal direct to the people. In other words he said, the Federation of Labor will enter the field of politics and urge organized labor to elect men of their own choosing and thus have a personal voice in the government. There will be further discussion of the situation by members of the council, among whom remarks of the president and Cannon have made a deep impression. Gompers insists that the council is in the right regarding the statement set forth in the bill of grievances; that it has abundance of representations made and that the condition of affairs in the labor world everywhere is the best proof of its contentions.

Among other matters considered by the council was a communication from the president of the International Typographical union and one from the union printers of Canada, saying that a number of printers had been contracted for in England to come here under contract and act as strike breakers to such printers as are still out on strike for the establishment of the 8 hour day, these strike-breakers coming to the United States via Canada. It was decided to co-operate with the International Typographical union with a view to having them coming here apprehended and to endeavor to break up the alleged practice. It was stated that there are about 10,000 printers now working under the 8 hour day and about 3,000 still out.

REPLY TO HAMILTON

What Was Said to Insurance
Man by Investigating Committee of New York Life

New York, March 22.—The reply to Andrew Hamilton's letter for refusing to appear before the investigating committee of the New York Life Insurance company was given out to night by Charles H. Macy, acting chairman of the committee. The letter written in full regarding the statement and the company, which has been considering the protest, which statement really amounts to an important declaration of foreign policy.

The main question before the committee as to your matters, was what you had done with the company's monies, amounting to about $1,200,000, which at one time or another had come into your possession the past ten years. You alone could tell us in the great bulk of them something over $100,000 appears from your vouchers to have been paid you for legal services. Your receipts for $200,000 or thereabouts received for what has been called your expenses, were simply receipts in ordinary form and they throw no light on what you have done with the money. They did not show, nor did any records or books of the company that there was a legislative or secret service bureau or that you were engaged in any such work. Vouchers you signed for various sums aggregating $225,000, which Mr. McCull replied because you did not read that you were to account for them. At that time you were acting in a legal capacity to the company in connection with real estate purchases and mortgage loans. There was no reason where any one on the auditing committee to suspect that you would not account in accordance with the terms of the vouchers though you have not done so.

After referring to others of Hamilton's transactions disclosed in the insurance investigation, the letter continues: "These facts made clear the reason why the committee desired from you information you could furnish as to the use and disposition of these large sums of money. It had that information disclosed that any of these sums had been used by you for improper purposes there would have been no shielding by this committee of any officer or trustee who had approved such payments."

The concluding paragraph is: "Your statement that any document in the company's official files which have been brought to the attention of the committee or any official action spread upon the records of the proceedings of this committee or any correspondence to which it has access has been ignored by it to give a false color to any of your transactions or to make unwarranted accusations against you, is absolutely without the slightest foundation."

CHICAGO MANAGER

Of Yates' Campaign—Tribune Discusses Question and Says It is Up to John R. Thompson, a Deneen Leader.

Chicago Tribune—John R. Thompson, Deneen leader in the Sixth ward, is to take charge of the Yates campaign in Chicago, if he will accept the place of campaign chairman and if the Deneen organization decides that it will be possible to have him at the head of the Yates movement in Cook county.

After Gov. Deneen had his conference with his party chiefs yesterday at the Union League club, this matter was taken up with W. Scott Cowen, chief grain inspector and one of the down states Yates men, with state chairman Roy O. West, and with Mr. Thompson. It is expected that an answer will be given the former governor to day or tomorrow.

Yates wanted West to take charge of the Chicago end of the campaign at first, but this was vetoed by the governor as highly inadvisable. Then the former governor wanted Mr. Thompson, as a man closely connected with the Deneen organization.

As early as the state fair last fall, the proposition was made to the Sixth ward man, but as there was no immediate necessity of starting the Chicago Yates organization it was not urged strongly at that time. Now that Yates is on the point of reaching Chicago it is necessary to put some one at the head of his affairs.

When he and his friends were in conference with the governor last Saturday the question of organization was taken up. It was considered again yesterday, and conferences between West and Cowen and Thompson, and Thompson and Cowen were arranged.

According to present plans Yates will reach Chicago April 1, the day after election, and will start his local speech making in Gov. Deneen's own ward, if it be possible to secure a hall there for that night. If none is available, then a start will be made in one of the neighboring south side wards and the second night's speech will be made in the governor's territory.

Less than two weeks remain, according to this schedule, to perfect the local organization of committee which is to direct the interests of the former governor in his campaign to defeat Senator Shelby M. Cullom for the United States senate. The chief wish of Yates is to get for chairman some man so closely connected with the Deneen organization that it will give the appearance of an alliance between the former and the present governor. This alliance exists to all practical purposes, but Mr. Yates wants something that will show on the surface, and if a Deneen man manages his Chicago campaign it will be an advertisement of the friendliness of Deneen for him.

Notice to Modern Woodmen—Geo. W. Reilly, of Danville, Ill., one of the board of directors of the head camp, will speak in Odeon hall, West State street, Jacksonville, Ill., on March 23 at 8 p. m. Other speakers will be here. All visiting neighbors are invited. If you have not the pass words, D. H. Griggs, district deputy, will be in the hall, or see him at 315 1/2 West State street for same. All neighbors are welcome.

W. R. C. The Woman's Relief Corps will hold their regular meeting in the new hall on West Morgan street this (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired. Belle Hopper, Pres. Alice Spelman, Press. Cor.

Y. M. C. A.

A FEAST AND A PLEASANT GATHERING.

Great Interest Aroused in the Important Work of the Association.

The doors of the Y. M. C. A. building were thrown open last evening to receive a company of gentlemen gathered to discuss matters pertaining to the good of the society. Tables were spread in the west hall and an excellent supper was served by the Kindergarten juniors of the city. The bill of fare was served by attentive ladies who were prompt and courteous and it was a matter of sincere regret on the part of the gentlemen when the meal was finished. John A. Ayers presided and requested Rev. A. B. Morey to invoke a divine blessing, which was done. All that was offered was greatly enjoyed and the attentive ladies came in for a liberal share of praise.

At the close of the feast the chair called the gathering to order and with some felicitous remarks introduced A. T. Capps, president of the Y. M. C. A., who said in brief:

"We welcome you to the feast and thank you for your presence. The Y. M. C. A. is a noble means for doing good to young men. It is an instrument for the church to save the boys and prepare them for usefulness. Much hard work has been done by the directors of the local body but have not accomplished what they have wished. The order is a good means to help young men to avoid evil and we want a strong society here. This is the only counter attraction to many to the saloons and should be encouraged. If two saloons have been closed for lack of trade, why may we not offer a place far more attractive than they?"

The chair spoke highly of T. D. Eames, his son, C. M. Eames, a founder of the society and a grandson, Beverly Eames, secretary of the association. He said in part:

"You are guests of the association, not to be asked for money but to hear of the work and our hopes for the future. We find some obstacles or hills to climb. The first is a debt of $3,000 for current expenses which should be paid at once. Another is a debt of $4,000 incurred when the gymnasium was added. Another is a lack of equipment for the boys. This is now regarded as the most important branch of all. More good citizens are made by a boys' department than by any other way. We want to make our place attractive and assist in their recreation. We need a large boys' room where they can have nice games, and then a reading room and the basement we want to make into a general workshop. Boys like to make things and should have tools and material for the purpose. This has been found good elsewhere and then we want a photographer's dark room which would cost $500. Our baths are inadequate. We should have 400 members and have but two shower baths and should have more. The swimming pool was a good thing but can only be used in warm weather and should have heating apparatus. The building is much in need of repair; the walls need rebuilding and other work is needed. If we were as active as we should be we should use all the building. Two large basement rooms are not furnished and should be. These are some of the things needed if we are to have an up to date plant. These things will call for $10,000 or more and surely what should be done can be done. What other cities have done we can do and should do it and you will agree with me that these things should be done. I will do all I can and the directors will do the same. You will always be welcome here and your interest will be appreciated."

The next speaker was introduced with highly complimentary remarks, W. C. Johnson, of Denver.

"It is an honor to speak before you and greater to speak for the great cause of the Y. M. C. A. It means much to all and all should help in every way. Some will say we have our homes and churches, some refer to heredity, some to environment and some to education and personal endeavor. The Y. M. C. A. will take men of bad inheritance and environment and help them to be good useful men. The Y. M. C. A. is doing for young men more than by any other means. In Jacksonville you have 1,200 to 1,500 who have no homes and as business men remember the best investment is in boys. A man who can take a boy and lift him up is doing more than the president of the First National bank in Jacksonville if he carries $30,000,000 deposits. These Y. M. C. A. workers will fit these young men to fill your places when you are gone. We get busy chasing the dollar and forget the boys who are soon to step into our shoes. When you give your boys enough to place them beyond want and necessity of work you do a dangerous thing. Take the boys and place their feet on the bottom round of the ladder and they will get there. The rapid transit plan of financing everything is to raise men rapidly and we should do what we can to help them be good and useful men. I believe in salvation and conversion and while in Boston some time ago I found Mr. Crane's church much in debt and went to work to help them out. I got one man to give $5,000 and did something myself and it was suggested to me I was giving too much and I lay awake all night thinking about it. Toward morning I seemed to have a vision. I saw the poor house and my wife in an old wagon on the way there as plainly as I see you. It was a horrible nightmare. I looked for my boy, but he wasn't there. As we were going through the gate of the poorhouse right up out of the ground rose a lovely palace and on the threshold stood Mr. Crane, the Savior and my boy saved by the Lord and I can never forget the blessed vision. Remember the boy on the street is as valuable as the one on the velvet carpets. Think of this seriously and you will have a different feeling as you go to your business."

I. E. Brown, state Y. M. C. A. secretary, came next. "Some thirty years ago into an old dingy building a man stumbled and thought he was getting into a gambling room, but struck a prayer meeting and he was converted and brought many others to Christ and Bishoff was the man we loved. From that gathering came this building and the men who worked so hard were Gilman, Eames, Russell, Bailey and others. How the influence of Russell went out to other places. This was the third building in the state and you well know the changes that have been known, but the young men are all here. The factor we must reckon with is the neglected young men and we can't avoid it. The evils, the crimes will come from neglected young men. I remember when this building went up I heard the outline which the secretary gave it was a vision which we ought to realize. In Denver they started with a gift of $25,000 and increased it to $300,000. In Duluth they raised $170,000 and in Kansas City more yet. In Galesburg they have a building hampered with a debt. They want to raise the $15,000 and it is nearly done. In Decatur they will soon enter a $100,000 property out of debt. They have a vast church, a university and other great things. Sterling, Pontiac, and other places have fine plants. First, you here need an appreciation of the value of young manhood. You need more interest in a larger and broader work which means a better building and plant. Oak Park with 12,000 people has a $75,000 building. You need doing: the raising of that money the secretary mentioned. Now then do it. Now then do it."

L. O. Vaught spoke for the directors.

"As I have been sitting here I have felt glad to see you here to night. That all the seats are not filled is not our fault. We tried to get the seats filled, not to beg money, but to talk to them and tell them what we are doing. As a director I can say we are glad to see you here and though small I am sure we can if we will get under the Y. M. C. A. and put it on its feet. Sometimes I get out of patience with the preachers and churches for they are not doing what they should. We need to do work, to do something that shows and counts. I wish I could give some idea of the work of the Y. M. C. A. in Jacksonville. We know we are doing but little to help the other fellow. It is our desire to do more but how. When and where? Right here in the Y. M. C. A. is the chance for hard work and the largest of any in the world. The board of directors is not filled because it means work and sacrifice. Will not some of you serve? See what our secretary has outlined. It may mean life to your boys as well as to the poor boys in town. I hope some of you will decide to take hold. Does it not make you feel better to be here? Here is common ground on which we can meet and there is a grand profit in it. This is a congenial, attractive work. We have a great field in Jacksonville and are dead as a door nail. I want to say here is a work and a part of it we have been shirking. For a year I am willing to be called on for the use of all the strength I have. If all would do this all would be perfectly easy. It is up to us whether we will or not."

C. H. Russell next spoke. I heartily agree that all would be easy if all went into the work heartily.

Dr. C. C. Cochran spoke. I am not a public speaker, but am glad to be here and identified with the work, though but a recent member of the directory. I accepted the place of director with a desire to help and take hold and do whatever was for me to do. I wish I were wealthy that I might contribute heavily. I mean to enlist all the help I can. As a director I feel responsible to you and to a higher power to do all I can for Christ and if I fail I shall have to answer to my Maker. We are responsible for what we fail to do and can't avoid it. Since learning of our condition I have agreed to do what I can and I urge all to join in and help us out of our troubles. When I came to Jacksonville I brought my little boy to the Y. M. C. A. and he has been coming

Spring Tonic.

Spring is nature's time for purifying the system, and no doubt nature is able to purify the man who lives close to nature's laws, but most of us have long since ceased to keep her laws. Consequently we must undo our own work. All during the winter you have been eating solid and perhaps indigestible foods—foods that have made your blood thick and sluggish.

Purify your blood now with Beef, Wine and Iron.

Sore Mouth in Pigs.
Sore mouth will kill quicker than scours, although the disease is not so prevalent, says Farm Progress. A case of cankered sore mouth is about as bad as thumps and if not looked after at once will soon result fatally.

One of the best and surest remedies is crude carbolic acid. After washing out the sore places thoroughly take a swab made of old cloth and bathe the affected parts with carbolic acid twice a day.

Most cases of sore mouth are caused by pigs fighting each other before they are forty-eight hours old, and it is a good plan to take out the sharp teeth with which the pigs are armed even when they are born.

If these teeth are properly removed the pigs cannot hurt each other or bite the dam. Of course it is a difficult undertaking, and the farmer should judge for himself if the situation is such as to warrant this trouble.

Good Fruit Pays.
From time to time the wall goes up that fruit growing does not pay, that it is overdone, that the market is glutted and in consequence the fruit has to be taken to the tip. If one has sufficient curiosity to take a run down to the markets in order to probe deeper into this matter he will see so much inferior fruit being offered for sale, for anything it will bring, that he is struck dumb with wonder as to how the producers of fruit of such inferior quality can make a living out of it and that, if they cannot produce anything better, the wonder is that they had not given up fruit growing long before.—American Cultivator.

Watering Horses.
A horse should always be allowed to quench his thirst after coming in from work even if he is hot, says W. R. Culbert in Kentucky Stock Farm. A very general opinion exists that it is injurious to water horses when they come in in a heated state, and they are therefore in many instances not watered until they have somewhat cooled down. This opinion is fallacious, as it does not hurt horses to drink cold water directly they return from work. It is, however, hurtful to let a horse drink after he is partly cooled down, and this practice is very liable to cause a chill to the system.

Salting Pregnant Ewes.
The stockmaster should see that his ewe flock is regularly and plentifully salted, writes a Michigan farmer in National Stockman. Salt is one of the elements the body requires and particularly with ewes during pregnancy. It operates to stimulate the digestive tract and directly assists the digestive tract in the assimilation of food. During winter, when ewes are confined to dry fodder, salt is perhaps more essential than at other seasons of the year. Not only is the health of the ewes maintained by the importance of salt, but the offspring as well.

THE DEATH RECORD.

HURD.
Mrs. Mary E. Hurd, widow of the late Rev. E. L. Hurd, D. D., of Tuscola, and mother of Mrs. Charles M. Brown of this city, entered into rest at the home of her daughter Thursday evening about 7 o'clock. Death resulted from pneumonia.

Mrs. Hurd was born in Whiteborough, N. Y., and came overland to this state in the early days with her father, Dr. G. W. Gale, founder of Knox college and of Galesburg. She was married at Galesburg forty-five years ago, and her husband died at Tuscola seven years ago. Dr. Hurd during his life was one of the most prominent ministers in the Presbyterian church in this state, and filled a number of pulpits with distinction. For thirteen years he was stationed at Augusta, three years at Sandwich, four years at Highland Park, and eight years at Tuscola. Previous to taking his Tuscola charge, he was for fourteen years president of Blackburn university at Carlinville, during the most successful period in the history of the school. He was also at one time professor of psychology in the old Chicago university.

Mrs. Hurd is descended from illustrious ancestry on both her father's and mother's sides. Her mother was descended from Governor Dudley, colonial governor of Connecticut, and her father from Col. Schell, of General Washington's staff.

The deceased leaves the following children: Miss Harriett S. Hurd, of this city; Prof. Edward G. Hurd, of Morgantown, N. C.; Mrs. Alfred Taylor, of Westfield, Wis., and Mrs. Charles M. Brown, of this city. She was all her life a devout member of the Presbyterian church, and was at her death about 70 years old. Prof. Edward Hurd is expected from North Carolina to attend the funeral.

Services in this city will probably be followed by interment in Galesburg, where the remains of her husband are interred.

There is peculiar sadness in the death of Mrs. Hurd at this time, as her daughter, Mrs. Brown, is ill with pneumonia and the son of Dr. and Mrs. Brown is also suffering from the same complaint.

Mrs. Amanda Dowell, an aged colored resident of Quincy, well known here, died suddenly of heart disease at her home early Wednesday morning. A son, William Lafayette, and a half brother, Mr. Braum, of this city, are in Quincy to attend the funeral, which will be held to day.

Mrs. Dowell formerly lived in this county near Orleans. She is well known to many of the best families of the county, as she has in the past served faithfully in not a few. She leaves her husband, who lives at the Soldiers' Home at Quincy, a son, Robert Vaughn, who is now lying at the point of death in St. Louis; another son, Mose Vaughn, of Chicago, and William Lafayette, of this city; also a daughter, Mrs. Emma Redmond, of Quincy.

The members of the fire department and other friends in this city sent quite a number of handsome flowers as tokens of their sympathy, and for these the family are very grateful.

BREWER.
The family of J. D. Brewer received word in this city Thursday of his sudden death Thursday morning in Cerro Gordo where he is employed as pharmacist in a drug store. Full particulars as to his death are lacking, but it was learned that he had gone to his work in his usual health, and had been suddenly seized with an attack of acute indigestion, which caused his death.

Mr. Brewer was for many years employed in different drug stores in this city, and was one of the best known pharmacists in this section. He leaves his wife, three sons, Francis, Herbert and George, and one daughter, Edith. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, being identified with Perry lodge.

The remains will be brought to this city for interment and are expected to arrive this morning.

VIIRA.
Joseph Viira, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Viira, of West Railroad street, died at Passavant hospital Thursday night at 11:15 o'clock, at the age of 18 years. He had been sick for a year and had been at the hospital since Tuesday.

Decensed leaves his parents and two sisters, Mary and Rose Viira, and four brothers, Tony, John, Joe and Manuel.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

Kept Himself Cool.
A man and his wife were once staying at a hotel when in the night they were aroused from their slumbers by the cry that the hotel was afire.

"Now, my dear," said the husband, "I will put into practice what I have preached. Put on all your indispensable apparel and keep cool."

Then he slipped his watch into his vest pocket and walked with his wife out of the hotel.

When all danger was past he said, "Now you see how necessary it is to keep cool."

"The wife for the first time glanced at her husband.

"Yes, William," she said, "it is a grand thing, but if I were you I would have put on my trousers!"—Boston Herald.

HOCH'S VIEWS ON HANGING.

Why Kansas Governor Objects to Capital Punishment.

Prisoners in the Kansas penitentiary under sentence of death need no fear of the governor's signing their death warrants, says a Topeka dispatch to the Kansas City Star, in a letter to the Christian Herald Governor Edward W. Hoch says that capital punishment is brutal and must soon give way to other methods of dealing with criminals.

"The governor's letter is as follows: 'The whole trend of thought on the subject of criminology is and has ever been toward more humane penalties. Indeed the march of civilization is well marked in the world's penal statutes. Time was when punishment was purposely made as severe and brutal as possible. Criminals were boiled in oil, stretched upon iron racks, fastened in barrels with spikes protruding outward and rolled down steep declivities and tortured in every conceivable way.

"But we have gradually grown away from these brutal practices in the name of the law, and capital punishment is the worst if not the only remaining relic of the dark ages in the treatment of crime. The infliction of this punishment has been made as humane as possible, which is a prophecy of its ultimate abandonment. Capital punishment does not deter criminals from committing crime. Statistics abundantly establish this fact. It is a brutal custom that does no good and must soon give way to a better philosophy of government and a higher Christian civilization."

SCOTT COUNTY
MAN SUICIDES

GEORGE SYKES—BARTON
FOUND WITH BULLET
HOLE IN HEAD.

Lived Alone on Farm Four Miles Northwest of Winchester—
Friends Unable to Account for Act—Leaves Large Estate.

The vicinity of Winchester and the whole of Scott county was shocked Thursday morning to learn of the death, presumably by his own hand, of George Sykes-Barton, a wealthy Englishman living alone upon a farm four miles northwest of Winchester. He was found by neighbors lying in his barn dead, with a bullet wound in his head.

Definite particulars of the tragedy are lacking, but it is said that three letters were written by the dead man and found in his house, one addressed to a Winchester attorney, another to a sister in England, and still another to some person in England. Inquiry at Winchester failed to bring out any of the particulars contained in the letter addressed to a friend of that place, but from other sources the information was obtained that the letter stated that the writer was "going to leave this country," and gave directions for his burial in the Rutledge cemetery. No one appears to have the slightest clue as to the probable cause of the suicide, and those who knew the man for many years are entirely at a loss to account for the act in any way.

Mr. Sykes-Barton, or Sykes, as his right name was, had lived in the vicinity of Winchester for about thirty years. Although an Englishman by birth, he had become naturalized in this country many years ago. He purchased a farm near Winchester and about ten years ago when he learned of an inheritance in England, he sold the place and returned to his native country, but after being gone only a few months, returned again to Winchester, re-purchased his farm, buying additional land adjoining it. His estate in England was valued at about $50,000 and comprised a place near Blackpool, a famous English watering place. It was claimed, and in order to secure the income, Mr. Sykes was obliged to assume the family name of Barton, which he afterwards held.

The deceased was about 50 years of age. He was a bachelor and lived alone on his farm, hiring help only occasionally as he needed it. He was known always as a good and upright, straightforward man, of no bad habits, and a man always just in his dealings with his fellow men. His estate is variously estimated at from $80,000 to $90,000.

Always in the way.

While General Butler was governor of Massachusetts he made an official trip on the United States revenue cutter Galham to Gloucester. During some evolutions of the vessel, involving the setting of the gale, a certain point dropped the end of a rope he was working with. It being a very warm day, Butler was sitting with his hat on just under the mast, and the rope fell on his bald head, raising quite a welt.

Members of the staff and officers of the ship were prompt to offer sympathy and the ship's officers to apologize for the unfortunate accident.

General Butler said as he wiped his head: "Oh, it doesn't matter. This head of mine has been in somebody's way all my life."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTE

Decision in "Hat Check" Case—
T. P. & W. Rumors Renewed—
Trains Getting Back to Schedule—Other Items.

A decision of interest for the traveling public has been handed down by the Illinois appellate court in the Gwinn hat check case, and which was based on the necessity for retaining or exhibiting a hat check given by a conductor in lieu of a ticket collected. On Aug. 21, 1901, T. T. Gwinn and J. M. Gwinn, traveling salesmen from Baltimore, boarded a Chicago & Alton train in Chicago with tickets for St. Louis. Their tickets were taken up and hat checks given in exchange. At Joliet the conductor noticed that the hat checks were missing and asked for them. Not receiving an explanation though satisfactory, the Gwinn's were notified to produce the checks before the train reached Bloomington or be ejected. They decided to make a test case and declined to produce the checks.

They were escorted from the train at Bloomington and immediately filed suit. A jury here awarded damages for $500. The road appealed and the decision just handed down is in favor of the Gwinn's. The road will appeal the case to the supreme court. It will be claimed that the hat check is the only protection that a railroad has in the collection of tickets and that the principle is the same as that in which places of amusement issue coupon tickets.

Wednesday morning in the local railroad circles again the old railroad consolidation was brought up of the T. P. & W. and C. B. & Q. railroads. The report this time came from Bushnell but was started in Macomb. It is stated here, and of excellent authority, that the C. B. & Q. has at last secured this little independent railroad through the center of the state and report even went so far as to claim that the "Q" agent, Mr. Wolfe, of Bushnell, had received orders to take charge of the T. P. & W. business in that city. This statement is substantiated by the recent appointment of John Miller, of Colchester to assistant day operator at Bushnell, the Bushnell people having been after this added half for some time and it was thought that this appointment might have something to do with the rumored combine.—Macomb Journal.

All the railroads were clear yesterday and the trains were moving with greater ease. The passenger trains have settled down to their regular schedules. The freight service was in a worse shape than the passenger, but it is gradually getting around to time, but it will take a day or two of fair weather to get everything to moving properly.

The engineering department of the Alton is recruiting its forces and dispatched several groups along the new Murrayville line Thursday to take up the work of building culverts and the laying of piping, which was abandoned last week. The company is anxious to have this work completed before the track laying force is brought to Springfield.

O. C. Scudder, right of way agent for the Burlington, arrived in the city yesterday and will spend a few days in the city on company business.

A solid train load of farming implements passed through the city Thursday on the Alton, enroute from Moline, Ill. to points in Arkansas.

CARNEGIE

TO ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE.

Amount of $25,000 Promised if Trustees Raise Additional $75,000—Active Steps Taken to Meet Conditions.

Through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie, the great philanthropist, President Harker, of the Illinois Woman's college, was able to announce to his board of trustees Thursday evening a conditional gift of $25,000. The terms of the condition are that the institution shall raise $75,000 additional, and that of the total sum of $100,000, half of the amount shall go toward a building and the other half as a permanent endowment fund. President Harker and his board of trustees after canvassing the situation carefully, and evening are of the opinion that he condition will be met. So confident of the fact are they that plans are laid to begin the erection of the building within a period of two months provided that four-fifths of the $50,000 for the building can be guaranteed by that time.

President Harker has raised $15,000 for the building of a dome-topped science hall and gymnasium and the plan for this building will be merged into plans for the greater structure. Under this arrangement this would have $25,000 to be guaranteed to meet the agreement of the board of trustees that $100,000 of the $50,000, would be raised before work on the building was begun. Of this $25,000, three-fifths of it, was guaranteed at the meeting last night, so that the building seems a probability even though the Carnegie condition is not met.

It is the hope of President Harker to begin the erection of the new building within the period mentioned so that it may be at least partially completed by the time of the 60th anniversary celebration to be held in May, 1907.

A gift of $5,000 from Mrs. Rachel I. Phillips, of Mahomet, Ill., of the class of 1872, was also announced.

The offer of Mr. Carnegie is the result of the personal efforts of Dr. Tarker. After a somewhat extended correspondence with Mr. Bertram, secretary to Mr. Carnegie, which was of productive of tangible results, Dr. Harker made a personal visit to New York and met Mr. Bertram and he conditional gift is the direct result.

The new building will be erected east of the present main building on that was known as the Self property before it was purchased by the Woman's college. It is the intention to have the upper part of the building completed by next fall so that the new building can be used for the musical department and give the room now needed in the present main building for dormitory purposes.

Without any solicitation President Tarker already has his building "laid" for next year and the increased demand for more dormitory space makes a new building imperative.

The board passed a resolution of thanks expressive of the keen appreciation of the gifts of Mr. Carnegie and Mrs. Phillips telling of the enthusiasm with which the announcement was made and of the contemplated activity of the members of the board and expression of confidence on the part of the members of the fact that the condition would be met. It is understood that there is no time limit placed to the offer of Mr. Carnegie.

A resolution was also passed that the executive committee of the board be authorized to let the contract for the building as soon as the four-fifths of the total $50,000 was guaranteed. The trustees were guests of President and Mrs. Harker at dinner Thursday evening and the business meeting was held after a delightful time had been enjoyed at the table.

The members of the board of trustees of the Woman's college are:

A. C. Wadsworth, president; Dr. J. R. Harker, secretary; S. R. Capps, Dr. Horace Reed, Judge O. P. Thompson, Dr. T. J. Pitner, Dr. J. W. Haigrove, Hon. Richard Yates, Edmund Blackburn, W. E. Orr, Mrs. Lizzy Dunlap Nixon, Mrs. Belle Short Lambert, Mrs. Marietta Mathers Rowe, Mrs. Lillian Woods Osborne and Mrs. Rachel Harris Phillips.

FUNERALS FEARON.

The remains of John Fearon arrived from Chicago Thursday morning, and the funeral was held at the Church of Our Savior at 9 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Fr. Formaz.

The flowers were under the care of Mrs. W. H. McCarty, and typified by their beauty and profusion the esteem in which the deceased was held both in Chicago and in this city.

At the conclusion of the church services the remains were laid to rest in Calvary cemetery. The bearers were A. Becker, Charles Degen, Bernard Gause, John Devlin, Pat Meany, William Boylan and James Harrigan.

Coleridge Taylor's Hlwaatha Music.

At the State Street church next Tuesday evening the Jacksonville Choral club will give two parts (Hlwaatha's Wedding Feast and The Death of Minnehaha) of Longfellow's "Hlwaatha" with music by Coleridge Taylor. The soloists will be Garnett Hedge (tenor), Grant Hadley (baritone) and Lillian French Read (soprano), all of Chicago. This is to be one of the greatest musical events of the season.

Tickets, 50c and 75c, now on sale at Smith's music store, may be reserved Saturday and Monday.

C. W. ALEXANDER
OPTICALLY ILL

Was First Librarian of Jacksonville—Has Been in West for Past Decade in Search of Health.

Prof. J. H. Woods, of this city, has received word from his son, Arthur H. Woods, that Charles W. Alexander, the first librarian of the Jacksonville public library, is critically ill, and that he left El Paso, Texas, last Friday, enroute to his home in Pekin, which place he expected to reach Monday.

Mr. Alexander was a very scholarly man and did much toward increasing the efficiency of the public library when he was in charge. He suffered poor health, however, and was compelled to seek a better climate. A number of years ago he went west. His sojourn appears to have been of no avail, however, and he finally gave up the fight. It has not been learned when he reached his home. He has a mother, a brother and two sisters residing in Pekin.

FINE PIANO RECITAL.
The piano recital of Miss Gertrude Thackway, a pupil of Mr. Stend, given in the chapel of the Woman's college Thursday afternoon was attended by a large audience, and proved to be of unusual merit. The first number on the program, "Chaconne in G Major," (Handel) was especially well given. The pianist showed splendid technique, and all of her playing exhibited a fine musicianship.

The program follows:
Chaconne in G Major Handel
Caconetta in D Major Schubert
The Chase Rheinberger
In Solitude Poldini
Impromptu Mazurka Godard
Hungarian Fantasia Liszt
Orchestral parts on second piano.

Crown Prince George of Servia, who has just passed his 18th year and is now of age, is said to be out to get King Leopold's reputation away from him.

NEW PHOTOGRAPHER.

Mr. Fred E. Strickland, of Greenport, N. Y., has bought the E. S. Young studio, over the postoffice building, and is now in charge. He has had several years' experience as a photographer and is a thorough artist. He had a studio in Riverside, Cal., and for the past three years has been an instructor in the Illinois College of Photography at Effingham, Ill.

The studio is being remodeled and when completed will be one of the nicest in the state, being fitted with all up-to-date facilities for making first class work.

Mr. Strickland has for his assistant Miss M. M. Clark, of Seattle, Wash. She is a graduate of the Illinois College of Photography, and is proficient in all branches of the art, making a specialty of imported carbons.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our thanks to the public for their patronage which made possible our success; to Manager Chatterton for his efforts in securing an attraction and for the use of the house; to Mr. Jeffries and the members of his orchestra for the excellent music they so kindly furnished; to Walter Brown and his assistants and other employees of the house who donated their services.

DOWN EMBANKMENT IN ENGINE CAB

Was Experience of George Sperry, Burlington Brakeman—Engineer Jumped—Fireman Killed.

George Sperry, son of W. C. Sperry north of the city, was hurt in the Burlington wreck Wednesday, which occurred near Browning, Ill. Mr. Sperry was head brakeman on the train and was riding in the cab of the engine when it rolled down an embankment. The engineer jumped and the fireman was killed. After the engine reached the bottom Mr. Sperry crawled out from under it. He is not hurt to any great extent, but is now at the home of his father, north of the city, where he will be confined for several days.

TAKING ACTIVE MEASURES.

The Springfield-Jacksonville branch of the Illinois Traction system is a project that is receiving attention at present at the hands of the company. Active measures toward securing the right of way will be taken at once, and the proposed line will be one of the realities of the not distant future, unless all the plans of the Traction officials go astray.

Late Hatched Chickens.

As a rule, chickens which are hatched out in April or early in May are the best ones with which to stock the big pens next season. In the case of the Asiatics it may be well to hatch the chickens during the latter part of March, but with the small breeds, which lay much sooner, April is plenty early enough. Chickens which are hatched out in February are very likely to molt the same season and so impair their usefulness as early layers.

Suburban Life.

Feed Dry Grain.

There is no benefit to be derived from wetting grain before it is fed. Feed it dry. The cow will masticate the food better and it will be better digested if it is eaten dry than if eaten wet. Adding water to the food in no way adds to the value of the food. The cow can help herself to what water she needs either before or after eating. Stopping cows is an old fashioned notion, and no good reason can be given for the practice.

Lampas in Colls.

Lampas is caused by colts shedding their temporary teeth, and as soon as the permanent teeth are up the lampas will disappear. In bad cases dissolve a teaspoonful of alum in half a pint of water. Bathe the mouth with a little of this twice a day. This will help to keep down the inflammation until the teeth are up.

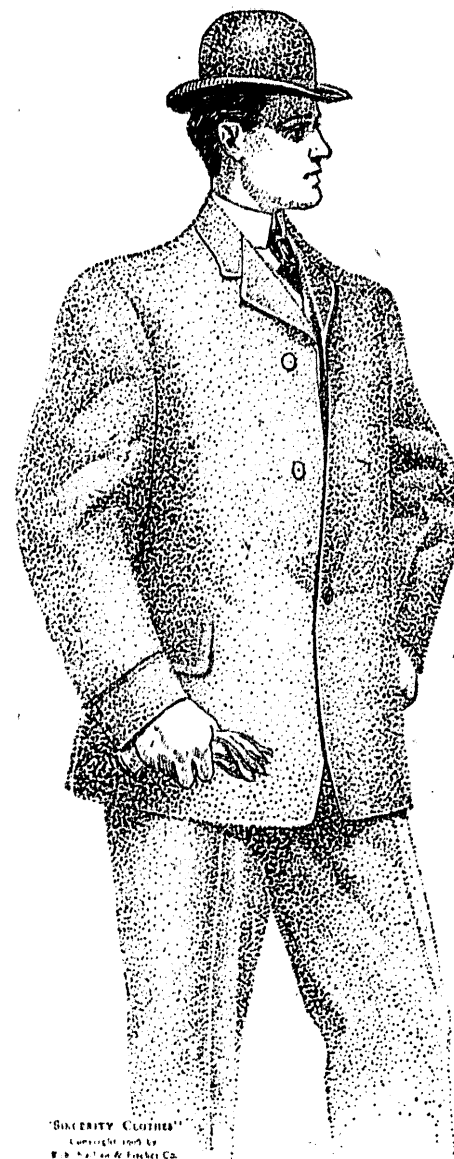

Corn Silage For Sheep.

Corn silage is valuable as a portion of the ration for fattening lambs or for breeding ewes after the lambs are dropped. In repeated experiments at the Michigan station it was found that silage cut down the grain ration required to fatten lambs nearly one half
